Peace Revolution Summit has just released the open call for application with the aim of showing participants the disruptive idea that peace building starts from within and with the goal of discussing the ways of achieving and sustaining inner peace in order to “Empower Minds for a Sustainable Future”.

PRS 2017 is a unique global gathering organized by World Peace Initiative Foundation that will gather like minded individuals to empower, network and inspire.

There are some steps to be followed when applying, such as checking the eligibility for airfare sponsorship, showing engagement by completing one Peace In Action Challenge, finishing at least 14 days of the online Free Self-Development Program and writing an article, blogging or recording a video about the Peace In Action Challenge, the meditation experience during the Free Self-Development Program, or about one the Peace Revolution Summit Themes.

Besides, already existing members of Peace Revolution will also be able to apply as speakers, facilitators and bloggers.

Peace Revolution Summit will also launch a ticket sale to take part in Empowering Minds for a Sustainable Future. It will be in September.
